Allegra

“Allegra” was a young student with plans for continuing her education and starting a career when she discovered that she was pregnant. She ignored it for a while, but in the end, decided that an abortion was her best bet. Allegra searched for “abortion” online and found the Women’s Clinic, and texted us for more information. Our texting team quickly made an appointment for her.

At her appointment, Allegra met with a caring, compassionate counselor and was able to share her fears and concerns. But the free sonogram really opened her eyes and made her look at her baby a whole new way.

“I am so glad to have found this Clinic. Seeing my baby on the ultrasound definitely moved me away from abortion. Seeing how much my baby had grown and developed was everything. I would definitely recommend this Clinic to any woman in the same situation.”

Pregnancy Tests

“Niah” had been in an on-again, off-again relationship with her boyfriend for years. They had broken up again when Niah saw the positive pregnancy test. Her life was so unstable that she couldn’t imagine having a baby and being a good mom, and she didn’t think she could count on her boyfriend to help. With a heavy heart, Niah looked online for an abortion, and called us for an appointment.

When Niah walked through the doors to the Women’s Clinic, she felt an immediate sense of calm and peace. At her appointment, Niah’s caring, compassionate volunteer counselor offered her acceptance and understanding. When she left, her counselor gave her prenatal vitamins, some resources, and a Bible.

“The Women’s Clinic made me feel SEEN. I could talk about how I felt and not worry about being judged. My counselor was wonderful and talking with her helped me see a different path other than abortion.”

Well Women
Visits

“Christina” was a busy single mom, putting all her time and attention into her kiddos. Her insurance required a copay for routine preventative care like breast exams and paps, so Christina continued to put it off. She knew that there were free resources available but didn’t even have the time to search them out. So when Christina heard about the Women’s Clinic offering women’s wellness visits at completely no cost, she jumped at the chance to get an appointment.

During her exam, Christina had a well woman visit, breast exam, and PAP test - all at no cost to her. More importantly, she had one on one time with a nurse practitioner who answered all of her questions and discussed her health concerns from a holistic viewpoint, considering her physically, emotionally and spiritually.

“Thank you for offering free pap tests and exams. So glad I found this place!”

“I absolutely loved my experience at the Women’s Clinics. Everyone made me feel very welcomed and safe.”

“Coming here felt like a safe place to pour out my heart and talk about how I feel about my pregnancy without being judged. I was given a great amount of helpful information and support to help me, and I know they will be here for me.”
~ Women’s Clinic client.

“I thought using the abortion pill would be quick and easy. I’m so thankful that I came here and learned more about the abortion pill and what it does. I knew right away I could never do that. It won’t be easy but I am going to keep this baby.”
